Here is a new mock up that I am getting a quote back on. The panels can be whatever you like and these are for placement only.

The material will be a stretched vinyl I believe. It will be fastened on a track system that will keep it tight so it does not appear to be vinyl, or so i'm told. The track system makes it removable as needed. The sizes are roughly"

panel 1 - 7x12

panel 3 - 11x10.5

Since other establishments, i.e. mcdonalds and subway are allowed to decorate their windows for promotions they are doing I am not sure how this would be any different, given the fact that you do not have windows and they are not hanging away from the building but actually recessed back into the building.

to me

Rob,

I'm still working on a loop hole. It's not looking good. I spoke with Tom and we're on the same page. Can you give me the specifics of the signs you want to do? Size, material, etc.

Thanks!!
