Napoleon City Police Department

PRESS RELEASE - FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

As of 06/02/2013 the City of Napoleon Police Dept. has received a number of reports and other information with regard to persons entering homes of elderly victims uninvited.

According to the reports received, a woman has been entering homes without knocking. The woman identifies herself as being from the Health Department or a Health Care Aid and asks to do an inventory of the homeowner's medication. This woman has been described as being thin, having olive color skin, black hair, wearing nursing scrubs, and being in her twenties. Through investigation by the Napoleon Police Dept. it has been learned there may be a second female also conducting a similar scam or working with the first woman. The second woman has been described as a white female, thirties to forties, carrying a bag.

They appear to be targeting the elderly and the City of Napoleon Police Dept. requests that residents keep their doors locked and do not allow anyone in that is not known to you. If someone you do not know enters your residence unannounced call 911 immediately.

The department has been in contact with other area law enforcement that have similar reports in their jurisdictions.

If there is anyone with further information into these complaints, please notify the Napoleon Police Dept. attention Det. Jamie Mendez at 419-599-2810

R Weitzel – Chief of Police
